AI Prompting for Educators

Learn how to write clear, powerful prompts for generative AI

AI is only as good as the prompts you give it. Give it vague, incomplete, or confusing prompts, and you increase the likelihood of getting back poor or just plain wrong answers. When teachers learn how to write strong prompts, AI becomes a powerful partner for saving time, supporting students, and sparking creativity. In this learning session, you will receive:

- Clear, simple explanations
- Live modeling of good vs. weak prompts
- Hands-on practice with real classroom scenarios
- Fill-in-the-blank prompt templates you can reuse
- Time to test your own ideas and get support
- A chance to talk with other educators about what works for them

This learning session is being offered both in-person and via Zoom. Please only sign up for one or the other. The same content will be presented at both.
