AI & the Future of the Workforce

What today's students need to thrive in an AI-shaped world

Whether kindergarteners or seniors in high school, students will graduate into a world where AI is woven into nearly every career path. This session helps educators understand the landscape so they can prepare students with confidence rather than fear. Specifically, we will look at:

- How AI is reshaping industries, job roles, and required skills
- Key future-ready skills students will need like critical thinking, data literacy, adaptability, ethical reasoning
- Classroom strategies that build AI-aligned competencies
- How to talk with students about AI in empowering, age-appropriate ways
- Real examples of AI in fields like healthcare, manufacturing, business, and the arts

This learning session is being offered both in-person and via Zoom. Please only sign up for one or the other. The same content will be presented at both.
