Project WILD

Connect your students to the great outdoors through hands-on multidisciplinary curriculum emphasizing wildlife conservation concepts.

Project WILD is an interdisciplinary curriculum, offering activities that focus on everything from mathematics to social studies, yet are especially relevant to the K-12 science classroom. This guidebook provides phenomenon-based experiences and activities which support content standards.

The Project WILD guide is filled with engaging lessons of various lengths. Each lesson includes a list of resources/materials, student pages/additional resources, a lesson script, STEM connections, and WILD work.

Now more than ever, Project WILD can be viewed as a tool to help teachers get students outside while engaging in standards-based teaching and learning.

Visit the Project WILD website to learn more!

All participants will receive a K-12
Project WILD
guidebook.
